The Seraphina Collection by Anna French

Beauty in natural movements. I am often inspired by the simple designs of nature around me. Poised butterflies flutter amongst wooded areas full of flowers, trees and foliage or the elegant scrolls of iron palace gates make a charming motif. Seraphina is a collection of wallpapers that celebrates everyday treasures in a sophisticated palette of harmonious hues. – Anna French

Newark, NJ -- The Seraphina Collection by Anna French is a lavish collection of wallpaper that features patterns inspired by nature. Modish colorways range from silver and charcoal neutrals to citron and lavender brights. All patterns are printed on non-woven paper.

Meaning “winged gift,” Seraphina is the title pattern of the collection. The colorful butterflies elegantly flutter among branches and leaves with hints of metallic throughout.

Klein Trellis’ delicate scalloped edges mirror Tunisia Trellis Embroidery from the Symphony collection. Colorways include metallic on grounds of silver, navy, aqua and citron, white on neutral and black on white.

Verey is a floral damask pattern named after Rosemary Verey, an English gardener who planted and maintained beautiful gardens around Barnsley House, a Cotswold countryside retreat.

Zane is a small-scale, contemporary geometric.

The welcoming wintery trees of Winfell Forest are reminiscent of English woodland areas. Colorways include classic black and white, white and citron, and aqua, grey, pearl and neutral with metallic accent.

Surrey Woods is a modern wood cut pattern named after a deeply wooded area southeast of London. It is a beautiful, more subtle depiction of the “faux bois” trend.

A slightly printed texture enhances silhouetted garden images of flowers, trees, birds and leaves in Garden Silhouette.

Inspired by the gates that lead to famous palaces, Palace Gate is a large-scale wallpaper with inviting scrolls.

Braxton Texture is a hand-painted design whose colorways encompass metallic pearl, netural, silver, gold and aqua.

The large scale of mid-evil Brock Trellis has a subtle textured look.

Fall in love with Spotted Orchid, a large-scale art-deco pattern of wild spotted orchids available in an array of colorways.
