Spirited and Classic Patterns Run Carefree and Bold in the Bridgehampton Collection

Newark, NJ -- Bridgehampton is a collection of spirited, classic patterns that are carefree and bold. Inspired by a visit to the posh and elite area in New York, our studio has incorporated upbeat and lively trends into this coordinating collection of wallpaper, printed, woven, and embroidered fabrics. The collection features crafty-looking florals, textural paperweaves, a trendy animal print, and graphic patterns in both large and small scale.

Portofino is a large stylized jacobean with crafty-looking flowers and other fun little details. The wallpaper is rotary screen printed, which uses a lot of ink to make the flowers slightly textured. The coordinating embroidered fabric has intricate, hand-stitched details. The backside of the fabric shows the true craftsmanship of the embroidery.

Interweave is a tightly woven paperweave in neat, neutral colors that adds both texture and dimension to the walls.

Using a watercolor technique, Waterford Floral's large-scale, painterly floral pattern has soft, ikat-like effects. Has a matching printed fabric in all colorways.

Temecula is a large-scale vine pattern that climbs the walls. The surface print technique gives the wallpaper a stamped look and feel on non-woven paper. The coordinating fabric pattern is embroidered on a linen/cotton blend. This pattern has a modern appeal and can be used in accenting places like the back of a chair.

Basketry is a textural pattern with slightly raised ink to imitate a woven basket look. Colorways coordinate with many other patterns in this collection.

A unique woven linen/paperweave combination, Deck Stripe has a vertical striped pattern printed on top. This wallcovering gives a fabric effect on the walls.

Inspired by a document from the early 1900s, Peacock Garden features wild birds in vibrant hues perched on tree vines. This pattern has been designed in fresh colorways including navy and beige, aqua and green, and brights on white. Has a matching printed fabric.

WALLPAPER FABRIC FURNITURE

Panthera is lively watercolor leopard animal print available as both wallpaper and printed fabric.

The damask motifs in Tanglewood look like carved out wooden block prints. This bold and graphic pattern is softened by the print effect.

Midland is a large-scale graphic pattern that has a leaf-like motif and gives a nod to old Federal style wallpaper. Bold colorways are festive and perky with pairings like blue and green, aqua and beige, and pink and coral. Has a matching printed fabric.

A small-scale texture with characteristics of a basket-weave, Troy has just the right amount of depth and dimension. Has a coordinating woven jacquard fabric that is ideal for upholstery. Colorways coordinate with many other patterns in this collection.

Demetrius is a large-scale graphic pattern inspired by the coordinating appliqué fabric. The white fabric is appliquéd onto the darker ground. The pattern references a Greek-influenced geometric. The wallpaper is perfect for the ceiling or for use on an accent wall. This is definitely a statement-making wallpaper!

New England Plaid is a versatile cotton/poly fabric available in perky colorways that can be used for pillows, drapes, or light upholstery. Crisp lines and the big scale make for an elegant impression with this fabric.
